SHORT NEWS

We take pleasure in calling your attention to the large list of advertisers in this issue.

The many friends of Mrs. D. Reece Williams will regret to learn that her condition is not improved.

John M. Madra, the world's greatest "circus fan" is today in Charlotte attending the world's greatest circus.

Rev. F. N. Skinner, rector of the Episcopal church, occupied the pulpit of the First Methodist church last Sunday night, and preached to the delight of the congregation.

Mrs. Mary Barron went to Union last Saturday. She returned last evening accompanied by her daughter, Miss Mary Locke Barron, who will spend a few days in the city.

Rev. P. B. Wells, D. D., presiding elder of the Rock Hill Conference, will preach in the First Methodist church next Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock, and at the close of services will hold the Quarterly Conference.

Miss Genevieve Beckham was in the city Saturday, the guest of Mrs. Jack White. Miss Beckham was the efficient teacher of the Ferguson school during the past two years, but now holds a splendid position with the Charlotte schools.

Mr. S. H. McLean, district passenger agent, Southern Railway, was in Lancaster Monday arranging for the operation of a special train to the State Fair Thursday, October 26, which is LANCASTER DAY. Don't fail to go and boost Lancaster county.

We made an error in our report of the honor roll in last issue in which we omitted the name of little Miss Sarah Hilton in grade two. We are pleased to make this correction, as she deserves much credit for the showing made during the past month.

Thursday, October 26, has been designated as LANCASTER DAY at the State Fair. A special train will be operated from Lancaster to Columbia and return for the benefit of those who desire to go. From present indications a large number of Lancaster people will attend.

SOCIAL NEWS

A charming social event of Friday afternoon was the kitchen shower given by Mrs. Rogers of Dillon, S. C., at the home of her mother, Mrs. Alice Gregory, on Chesterfield Avenue, for the attractive bride of Wednesday evening, Miss Pearl McManus.

Assisting in receiving were her sister, Miss Annie Gregory and Miss Bess McManus.

On entering each of the fifteen guests was asked to write her favorite recipe in a book to be presented to the bride.

Following this interesting diversion Miss Martha VanLandingham entered dressed in bungalow apron and cap and from a pan presented each one with a unique invitation reading as follows:

Mrs. O. Cedar Mop Miss McManus At Home

Across the hall—Immediately. Here, in a very original way, the gifts were presented to the bride. The guests were then asked to give hints on "How to Preserve a Husband." After the reading of these amusing answers the hostess served a delicious salad course.

Another lovely affair for Miss McManus was the bridge party given by Miss Maude Moore Saturday afternoon.

The color scheme of yellow and green was beautifully carried out in ferns, goldenrod and large yellow chrysanthemums.

At a late hour dainty refreshments in two courses were served, the color scheme being effectively observed.

Miss Margaret Moore made highest score and was awarded a cut glass bud vase. Miss Moore presented the honor guest with a lovely piece of lingerie.

The out-of-town guests were Mrs. Blakney, Mrs. Culver and Mrs. Hays of Kershaw and Mrs. Rogers of Dillon.
